The particular disability of which she complained was weakness of the eyes, which prevented her from reading or writing to any great extent at night. The case was thoroughly investigated by the Commissioner of Pensions, who came to the conclusion that the disability from which she suffered was not contracted while she was a contract surgeon in the army, and therefore rejected her appliin the army, and therefore rejected her appli-

THE INDIAN SCARE IN NEVADA AND CALIFORNIA—Threatening Movements of the Savayes. A telegram from the deputy sheriff of Elko county. Nevada, who was sent to investigate the troubles with the Indians at Spruce mountain, confirms previous reports. Large numbers of the Snakes, Goshoots and Shosones are holding a council in Deep creek, in the vicinity of Spruce mountain. The redskins have all disappeared from around the settlements in that section. Herders in charge of Gov. Bradley's cattle, near the scene of the trouble, have been notified by the Indians to leave the country at once, under penalty of being killed. The settlers of Spruce mountain are securing all the arms and ammunition possible, and are preparing to resist Indian outrages. THE INDIAN SCARE IN NEVADA AND CALL ing to resist Indian outrages.

The settlers of Surprise valley, California, are alarmed by the fact that the old chief Winnemucca has gone north on the war path, with 60 warriors. He was followed by cavalry and asked where he was going. He told the officers to mind their own business, and if they wanted to fight he was ready. He was warned to behave himself, and allowed to pass.

announcement appears in the Evening Post o yesterday under the head of "married:" "Mat thews—Smith.—At the Church of the Incarna-tion, on Saturday, May 10, by the Rev. G. H. Houghton, D. D., J. B. Matthews, to Ida Smith." Mr. Matthews is a son of the wellabout 21 years old, while his bride, under the name of Ida Harlan, was at one time a membe of the Lydia Thompson dramatic company. The happy pair are said to have sailed for Europe the day of their marriage.—N. Y. Sun, 24th

BUSHWHACKING IN VIRGINIA.—A freight engine on the Manassas branch of the W. C., V. M. & G. S. railroad was fired into from an ambuscade near Mt. Jackson, night before last. Fortunately no one was hurt, but the cab was literally riddled with turkey shot. There must have been several guns levelled upon it from the report made and the damage done the cab, as the floor was covered with splinters. The aim was certainly taken with a view to kill, as the would-be assassins were very near, and shot into the front of the cab as the engine was moving from them.—Virginia Sentinel, 24th.

A Son Kills his Mother.—In Brooklyn, N. Y., last evening, during an altercation between a young man named George Roderick and James Corcoran, in which the latter was very abusive and struck the former, Roderick, the mother of the former, rushed in between them, and in a siruggle to prevent her son from firing, his pistol went off, and the ball passed through his mother's eye into the brain, killing her instantly. Roderick was intoxicated.

A BAND OF DESPERADOES, numbering thirty or more, took forcible possession of Caddo, in the Indian territory, (a station on the Mo., Kan. and Tex. railroad,) Saturday, and defied the authorities. The United States marshal being overpowered, telegraphed to Fort Gibson for help, and troops were sent to quell the disturbance.

CHASTISING A DAUGHTER TO DEATH.—
Frank Dennis, of Memphis, found his daughter, aged 16, in a house of ill-fame on Saturday last. After taking her home he began to beat her, when suddenly she staggered and fell against the sewing machine, and in a few moments expired. Dennis surrendered himself.

A PARRICIDE.—W. Eldridge, of North Harwick, Mass., was on Saturday last committed for trial in October for an assault committed a few weeks ago on his father, which resulted in the latter's death.

THE TOWN COUNCIL OF MANASSAS, Va., appointed by act of the legislature met on the 17th inst., and organized by the election of Mr. Robert C. Weir, mayor, Mr. Geo. C. Round, clerk, and Dr. J. W. THE BLOODLESS REVOLUTION IN FRANCE.
Thiers Succeeded by McMahon—Great Excitement in Paris, but No Blood-

As stated in a dispatch printed in Saturday's STAR, President Thiers addressed the assembly, urging the definitive establishment of the republic; after which a recess was taken until 2 public; after which a recess was taken until 2 p. m. On reassembling, the assembly, after an energetic speech by M. Casimer Ferier, minister of the interior, rejected, by a vote of 362 against 348, the simple order of the day, emanating from the left and supported by the government. Anorder of the day, prepared by the right, declaring that the present form of government was not under discussion, and regreting that the reconstruction of the ministry did ting that the reconstruction of the ministry did not afford conservative guarantees, was then adopted by a vote of 360 to 344. After much tumult, M. Dufaure, minister of justice, ascended the tribune and declared that France would not remain a moment without a govern-ment, notwithstanding the vote first cast. The ministry would answer for the maintenance of order. The, would confer with the president, and agree to a night sitting.

The news of the action of the assembly caused the greatest excitement. At the evening session Dufaure, minister of justice, announced that the ministers had tendered their resignathat the ministers had tendered their resignations to M. Thiers, who had accepted them. M. Dufaure then handed to M. Buffet, president of the assembly, a message from President Thiers, announcing that he delivered back to the assembly the high functions which had been conferred upon him. The reading of the message produced a profound sensation, and after a terrific uproar, the left moved that the resignation of Thiers be not accepted. The motion was rejected by a vote of 368 against 339. The resignation was them accepted. M. Buffet fruitlessly attempted to sulogize M. Thiers. The members of the left endeavered to secure an adjournment of the election of a successor an adjournment of the election of a successor to M. Thers, but the right insisted upon choosing a president immediately. A vote was then taker, and it resulted in the ELECTION OF MARSHAL M'MAHON, who received 390 votes. The Deputies of the Left abstained from voting. A committee was then appointed to wait upon Marshal McMahon and inform him of his election. It was headed by M. Buffet, who temporarily handed over the presidency of the Assembly to M. Goulard. The members of the Left enthusiastically Cheered M. Goulard upon his taking the seat. Upon the return of the committee, M. Buffet resumed the chair and announced that Marshal McMahon had accepted the Presidency, though not without pain. M. Buffet also stated that the ministers would temporarily remain. ministers would temporarily remain. The crowds in the streets and in front of the legislative chamber increased at night, and when the result of the proceedings in the Assembly was known there were loud shouts of "Vive la Thiers!" "Vive la Republique!" There was no attempt at disorder, and the people quietly THE CHANGE IN THE PRESIDENCY was accomplished without any breach of the peace. The radical journals yesterday were calm in tone, and recommended prudence and wisdom on the part of the republicans, and urged peace and strict adherence to law. Gam-betta issued a manifesto, calling on republicans to respect the law. Marshal McMahon's accep-tance of the presidency was couched in the folsembly, the depository of the national sovereignty. It is a heavy responsibility, but with God's aid and the devotion of the army I will continue the work of liberating the territory and restoring order, and will maintain tranquility and the principles on which society rests. To this I pledge my word as an honest man and a soldier."

The new president has issued a circular to prefects of departments, promising that no at-tack will be made on the laws and institutions of the country by the formation of the new gov-ernment, which has not yet been completed. A portfolio was tendered to Goulard, late minister of finance, immediately after President Thiers' resignation, but he declined it. Large numbers of republican functionaries have resigned.

Bold Robbery by Means of Chloroform. A robbery was effected by the use of chloroform in the dwelling of Mr. Charles Conaway, 149 North Bond street, about 4 o'clock in the morning of the 14th inst., the facts of which have just been made known. The robbery was attended with circumstances of an unusual and singular nature. Mrs. Conaway, who was sleeping beside her husband, stated that she was aroused to partial consciousness about the hour named, and saw by the light of the moon or of the breaking day, two men at the side o the bed by her husband, one of whom had a pistol in his hand. She states that she seemed to be in a kind of a dream, which she afterward. BOLD ROBBERY BY MEANS OF CHLOROFORM be in a kind of a dream, which she afterward knew was caused by chloroform. She could see and hear, but was not conscious of what was being done so as to be alarmed; she thought she was in a boat and that the men she saw were employed on the boat; one of the men was large and the other small; the larger one, though a white man as she knows from his beard and hair, whom she is sure she could recognise, either had his face blackened, or had on a mask. He applied a rag, which she afterwards discovered was saturated with chloroform, to the face of her husband several times, and also to her own. The men partly lifted up her hus-band and got from between one of the slats and the mattrass and bed on which they slept a pocket-book containing $132, which they seemed to know was there. They also took his gold watch from under Mr. Contraction in the state of the st to know was there. They also took his gold watch from under Mr. Conaway's pillow. They then snatehed up a quantity of Mr. Conaway's clothes and went down stairs. By this time Mrs. Conaway had sufficiently recovered to cry out to her husband, "We are robbed; get your revolver," and to raise the window and cry out as the men ran out of the front door. Mr. Conaway was then aroused, but too late to make close pursuit. In their haste the robbers dropped the clothes, and in the pocket of one of the coats was found the watch. There was of the coats was found the watch. There was no mark whatever about the doors or windows to indicate in what manner entrance was ef-

AFFAIRS IN LOUDON COUNTY, VA .- A Mur derous Assault with a Razer.—On Thursday morning a difficulty occurred in this town, between two colored men-Edward Brown and Horace Brown-which resulted in Horace Brown being cut in three places, very severely, with a razor—on the shoulder, forehead and on the head Edward Brown in the head Edward Brown. with a razor—on the shoulder, forehead and on the head. Edward Brown, it appears, bantered Horace for a fight. They repaired to a point on the railroad, near the depot, when Horace stripped in the usual style with pugilists of their stamp, for a fair fight. Ned had in the mean time armed himself with a razor, and commenced a violent and deadly assault upon his antagonist, cutting him as above mentioned. Horace being unarmed, ran until he could get a rock, when he turned upon Ned, who then fied, and has not been seen since.

OLIVER CHARLICK S. ES THE "EVENING POST" FOR LIBEL.—A suit for libel has been commenced in the court of common pleas by Oliver Charlick against Wm. Cullen Bryant, Isaac Henderson, and Parke Godwin, of the Evening Post, damages being laid at $10,000. The alleged libel consists of two editorials relating to Mr. Charlick in connection with his appointment as a member of the police board, in which it is asserted he is spoken of as a member of the common council when it went under the title of the "Forty Thieves!"—N. Y. Commercial, 24th.

CLOTHING CLERKS COMBINING TO CLOSE EARLY.—A permanent organization of the clothing clerks of New York has been formed, for the special object of forcing employers to close their stores before 7 o'clock. Most stores close at that hour, but it is said that the "bosses" have determined to keep them open to a later hour. It is to check this movement that the organization is formed. A committee was appointed to visit all the emplyers who do not close before 7 and ask them to do so.

A GOLD RING IN A Cow's STONACH.—A cow belonging to a man in the third ward died a few days ago. He went to work to save her hide. After having skinned her, he thought he would have a post mortem examination, and when she was opened he found a gold ring, worth eight dollars, enclosed within. This is not intended as a hint to advise any one to kill their cow in the hope of finding a gold ring.—Virginia Sentinel, 21th inst.

A MOST SHAMEPUL TRICK was played lately upon a lover at Terre Haute by his rival. The generous weer had procured a package of gundrops to present to his Angelina ever dear, but the other man maliciously substituted therefor a paper of white beans. It was not until three o'clock in the morning that matters were explained and a reconciliation effected. SUICIDE.—Edward W. Hardy, an old and respected citizen of Norfelk, Va., committed exicide carly Saturday morning by shooting himself through the head with a petol. Deliantic troubles, if would, supplied the incentive.

ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORTS.

FRANCE. MCMAHON AS PRESIDENT.

His Address to the Prefects-No Im Existing Laws—The Exciting
Scenes in the Assembly
When the Change of Rulers was Made

FRANCE, May 26.—A special from Paris gives the following as the text of President McMahon's addres to the prefects: "I have been called through the confidence of the National Assembly to the Presidence of the Republic; no immediate change will be made in the existing laws, regulations, and institutions. I rely upon material order and count upon your upon your visilance and upon your partiolic assistance. vigilance and upon your patriotic assistance.
THE SCENES WERE EXTREMELY EXCITING

in the National Assembly chamber pending the discussion, which resulted in the deposition of Theirs and the exaltation of Marshal McMahon. In the President's box were Madame Theirs the Prefect of the Department of the Seine, and others who were gesticulating quite wildly and once the Prefect was called to order for the ardor of his enthusiasm. The diplomatic corps was well represented, Lord Lyons, British was well represented, Lord Lyons, British minister, was not present, being engaged in giving a dinner and reception in honor of Queen Victoria's birthday. Masy celebrated women of Napoleon's court, as well as of the Republic, occupied conspicuous places and remained until the political change was consummated. As soon as the vote was taken deposing Theirs, the representatives of the different countries immediately left the chamber and telegraphed the news to their respective governments.

THIERS CAUSES A SENSATION.

Thiers sat a close watcher of events, and constantly using the exclamation, "Oh, bien Messieurs." Once he caused immense excitement when he said "They have spoken of negotiations, when it has occurred to me they only wanted the government to be transferred to Paris; but the army would not enter there. I have repelled them in order to prevent the shedding of streams of blood at the expense of shedding of streams of blood at the expense of the army. If there is a man who counts the cost of this effusion of blood, it is myself. I have failen! I rather wish to say, we have failen. For a long time I had the hope that this detestable faction"— The close of the sentence was lost in the tremendous uproar which the beginning had excited. Again did Thiers awake the enthusiasm of his friends when charged with being the protoge of radi-calism, he retorted: "There was something more remarkable than that in their midst. They had with them the Duke de Broglie, who was the protege of the empire." No fear of disturbance is apparent in Paris. The people were out on Sunday in great numbers at the Chan-tilly races and giving themselves up to pleas-ure, and caring little seemingly for politics.

The New Ministry.

Paris, May 26.—A new ministry is announced this morning in the Journal Official. It is constituted as follows: Minister of Foreign Affairs, Duke de Broglie; Minister of Justice, Ernone; Minister of the Interior, Beule; Minister of Fi-nance, Pierre Magrie; Minister of War, Gene-ral De Cissly; Minister of Marine, Admiral d'Hornay; Minister of Public Instruction and Worship, Batbie; Minister of Public Works, Desesrillgny; Minister of Agriculture and Com-merce, Bouillierie.

THERE HAS BEEN NO DISORDER in any portion of the country in consequence of the announcement of the change in the govenment. Dispatches from all sections report that tranquility prevails. Only half of the troops are now held in their barracks.

One of Bayard Taylor's letters says:

The Prince of Wales had buttoned his brown coat to bind in the growing rotundity of his body, and walked very lightly, considering his weight. His face is thoroughly amiable and good humored, but nothing more. His reign will bring no dangers to England.

Frederick William of Prussia improves on a nearer view. In his photographs there is a half sullen gathering of the evebrows, and a hard vacancy in the gaze, which do not belong to the real man. His eyes are an unusually light blue, which accounts for their photographic duliness; but they are, in reality, bright, frank and winning. His face expresses a good deal of Mathew Arnold's "sweetness and light." I should name, as its two prominent characteristics, virility and honesty. The Crown Princess tics, virility and honesty. Why is it?—It is an old saying that "fire will not consume the human heart," and without having a practical demonstration of the fact, we were disposed to treat it as one of the superstitious vagaries which have come down to us from an ignorant past. But a case in point seems to verify the adage. The body of the negro woman who was burned in a house in Dinwiddie, a few days ago, was entirely consumed, even to the bones, but the heart was intact and scarcely charred at all.
